- Yes
- No, inside color: _____

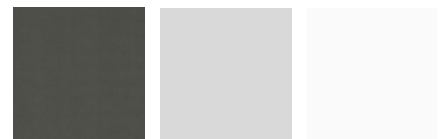

UPVC has insulated chambers and requires little maintenance: they don't have to be painted, only need to be wiped clean with water ever so often. Optionally covered with an anti ultra-violet (UV) coating, making them exceptionally resistant against the sun's UV-rays. A low-maintenance and sustainable choice.

Aluminium windows and doors have the same sustainable properties as UPVC, but aluminium is aesthetically more refined, robust and modern (design). Aluminium is more costly, but certainly a more luxurious option. The frames are available in all possible colors and in a wide variety of textures, including wood grains.
